

Safeguarding children

during the Coronavirus outbreak

The people of Dundee need to be on the lookout for vulnerable children.

We want to make sure that the most vulnerable people are safe during the current situation.

Schools and nurseries in Dundee

play a central role in contributing to the safety of all local children, especially those who may be at risk of abuse and neglect.

When children are not at school

we do not see them as often and this can make it more difficult to make sure that they are safe. A range of services are still available to support and protect children who might be at risk of harm.

If you are concerned for the welfare of a child

please contact the Dundee Child Protection Line on 307999, or call the police on 101.
